

2026 Board of Directors Applicant Bio: Paul Nanda

As a family medicine trained physician, I have loved all aspects of medical care, from delivering babies to end-of-life care. Over time, I found that acute care medicine – conditions I could fix in one or two visits in a motivated patient population gave me the most gratification. During residency at The Ohio State University, I worked in the urgent care space as a moonlighting physician – my first introduction to urgent care. After spending time in resident education, both inpatient and outpatient care, and global health, I spent a year working in a hybrid primary care/urgent care role in New Zealand before transitioning into a full-time career as an urgent care specialist in 2012.

As my career has evolved, I found myself seeing patients, but also taking on leadership roles, educator roles, and business roles. First in a Corporate Medical Director role for Hometown Urgent Care (30+ clinics) in Ohio/Michigan/Kentucky and later moving to Florida where I continue work as a clinician but also CMO with ownership interest in a growing practice of 20+ clinics. I still love patient care - but now I bridge the gaps between doctor, educator, administrator, advocate, community leader, and medical expert. I am firmly committed to help push for unity, collaboration, and advocacy in the urgent care space. I firmly believe that I have the experience needed for this next chapter of my career. I no longer want to just sit by the sidelines and hope that advocacy will happen - I want to be a foundational piece of helping to push urgent care medicine to new heights and this position would be a great way for me to get more involved on a national level.
